Editors' Picks: The Products We're Loving for the Summer-to-Fall Transition

By Eden Stuart Published on August 05, 2025

Hot (literal) take: I'm a summer girl, through and through. Sure, I can appreciate the cozy sweaters and gorgeous foliage that make autumn such a fan favorite. But ultimately, I like my days long, my temperatures high, and my evenings outside without a jacket. As such, when the season starts to wind down, I'll take a mood boost wherever I can get it. One such source of joy? New beauty products, particularly those that come with the stamp of approval from my colleagues. I asked Team Byrdie to share some of their hair, skin, makeup, and fragrance picks for the summer-to-fall transition. Read on for what they shared.

Manuela Picard Red Carpet Ready Vitamin C Peel

“The changing seasons tend to cause a bit of chaos for my skin, but having a good exfoliation routine helps. This at-home treatment uses vitamin C and a BHA/PHA/azelaic acid complex to improve tone and texture, boost radiance, and foster a calm and healthy complexion. I like to leave it on for 20 minutes once a week or as needed, and I find that it leaves me glowing while restoring much-needed balance.” — Ali Webb, associate style editor
